Cellular Electricity, Physiology and Health with the NuCell System

"The problem is not what we are taught
The problem is what WE are NOT taught ..."

Everything written below is based on a single postulated fact : Every cell in the body is made up of molecules which are made up of atoms ... which are composed of electrons ... that is, molecules vibrate . These vibrations are the instruments of the communication system of the cells by which biological functions in the body are controlled.

These vibrations are electromagnetic frequencies that continuously send signals. Water is one of the mediums in the body through which high-speed transmission of messages between molecules (cells) is possible, playing the role of an electrolyte in the presence of the right dose and combination of minerals. Millions of biological molecules communicate with each other, literally at the speed of light.

All energies are electromagnetic in nature.

All atoms, chemicals and cells create electromagnetic fields. Each organ in the body produces its own bio-electromagnetic field. It has been proven that our bodies project their own magnetic fields and that all 70+ trillion cells in the body communicate through electromagnetic frequencies. Nothing happens in the body without electromagnetic exchange. Physics has firmly established that when a moving electrical charge is accelerated or decelerated in some way, a wave of electromagnetic disturbance is emitted into the surrounding space. Electromagnetic frequencies generate electric currents, and electric currents generate electromagnetic fields.

Electricity is translated using crystal structures within the cell itself. These crystalline structures are the key to understanding the electrical nature of cells, which function as conductors to conduct electricity that reaches every part of the body to create a normal electrical environment around each cell or to stimulate one if and when a healing environment is needed.

Life is Electricity

THE TEXTBOOKS SAY THAT THE EXCHANGE OF SODIUM AND POTASSIUM ACROSS THE CELL MEMBRANE CREATES A PUMP, WHICH IS THE PRIMARY FUNCTION FOR SUSTAINING LIFE, BUT ... THE PUMP HYPOTHESIS IS NOT COMPLETE AS IT DOES NOT EXPLAIN HOW THE AMOUNT OF SODIUM DIFFERS FROM THE AMOUNT OF POTASSIUM THAT IS EXCHANGED. WHAT IS THE MISSING INGREDIENT THEN?

THE MISSING INGREDIENT IS ELECTRICITY! SODIUM CAN BE TRANSMUTED INTO POTASSIUM BY ADDING OXYGEN AND ... ELECTRICAL ENERGY.

The body uses electricity to maintain the balance between sodium, potassium and other chemical reactions in the body, through the adrenal glands, in the upper part of the kidneys. It's amazing how our bodies are designed in the best possible way !!!!

Each cell in the body is designed to operate at a voltage between 20 and 25 mV (millivolts) when in good condition. If a cell is injured or in a state of repair, the body raises the millivolt to 50 mV, which is needed to boost circulation, bring in new proteins, and remove waste. This condition is often experienced as acute pain as the body increases inflammatory processes while the site heals.

When the cells fall into an unhealthy state, their millivoltage will drop to 15 mV, and then even drop to 10 mV or 5 mV; this is the state we call chronic. We can resolve the pain or low voltage of chronic disease by putting enough electrons into the area to raise the voltage back up to -50 mV so that the body can heal itself.

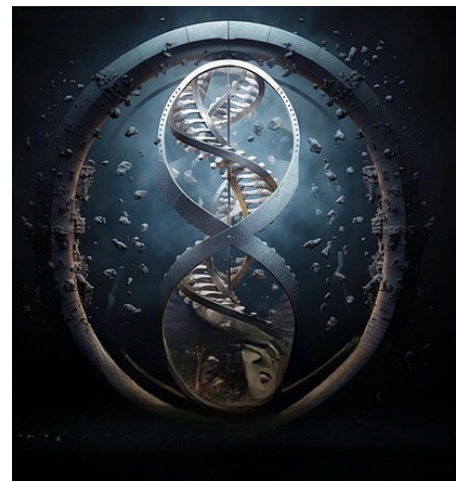

In fact, the usual membrane potential (the electrochemical gradient across the cell membrane) is between -40 and -80 mV, negative inside the cell relative to the outside. This electrochemical gradient is used for many purposes, from the excitation of nerve cells to their proliferation and a number of other functions. The voltage gradient is maintained by using chemical energy in the form of ATP to pump ions against their concentration gradient. Microcurrent directly contributes to this by significantly increasing ATP (adenosine triphosphate) production. For us humans, ATP is the life energy we c a n n o t do without, which is .... electricity.

Cell voltage/electricity is the basic process called life.

The therapeutic application of micro-current alters electrical fields, modifies the electrical potential of cell membranes, and alters intracellular mineral concentrations and cellular energy production by affecting the activity of ion membrane pumps.

The disease is always associated with a loss of electrical voltage. Problems resulting from prolonged voltage drop include chronic pain and inflammation, decreased oxygen levels, and infections.

Healing requires that we acquire enough electrons to push the cells back to a higher energy or healing voltage.

Light is a form of Electric Energy. How does the body use it ...?

Let's start with Heinrich Hertz, the physicist who discovered the "photoelectric effect" back in 1890. This effect means that light interacts with matter to create electricity - when light hits a substance, electrons are released. Later, Einstein proposed that light should be taken as photons. A photon is both a particle and a wave that moves at the speed of light.

We absorb photons directly from sunlight as well as from plants depending on their health or nutrient content. Photons from the sun are absorbed, not only through the eyes, but also through the skin.

Light induces the formation of an electric current in the body, but .... the opposite is also true - the body's electrical energy helps cells generate photons. Our bodies emit light (the expression "shine like the sun"). Biophoton is a term used by Hertz to describe the light emitted by the body.

It is our DNA that absorbs, stores and re-emits light - it is the body's electrical transformer.

Healthy cells glow with the dance of biophotons, and biophotons replace the sun in the hours when we are not exposed to it.

There is more:

Sound absorbed by the ear or skin also produces electricity. We think of sound and light as separate phenomena, but they are simply the same electromagnetic energy - detectable at different frequencies and wavelengths. Light with frequencies above, below and within the visual spectrum is absorbed and emitted by the body. Likewise, sound is absorbed and emitted at frequencies above, below and within the sound spectrum. "Small complex tuning forks".

I learned this many years ago from the BBC (not to be believed) who published an article describing how a musician and a biologist worked together to turn the electromagnetic vibrations of DNA into audible sound. They discovered that the sound of DNA creates beautiful music !!! Just as we emit light, we also emit sound - to varying degrees and depending on our available health !!!

In short, our body functions as an instrument. Our cells rely on light and sound to play a healthy tune. The electromagnetic vibrations of light and sound create the electricity our cells need to keep working and constantly replace themselves. DNA acts as a transformer - giving cells electricity to play their role and in turn emit light and sound.

Confused biochemical processes, deficiencies of vitamins, minerals or hormones manifest themselves at a later stage. The first signal to the body that all is not well is rather electromagnetic.

The process At Disease begins, when irregular frequencies or vibrations persist in the cells. Bacteria, viruses and other pathogens, as the process of Disease or This What improperly is accepted to be called aging, gradually becomes visible.

Additional information HERE.

When a disease is diagnosed, drugs are often the preferred means of treatment, Unfortunately, they work in the body by suppressing the damaging waves from the diseased organ rather than correcting them ... in other words, the 'damaging waves' are created by the body's electrical response to the 'disease'. As I said above, these damaging waves are stored and accumulate in the cell until a physical symptom or disease appears.

In order to restore health, the flow of energy in and out of the body in the form of electromagnetic waves, vibrations or oscillations - electrical processes - must be restored. If the imbalance in the vibration of our energy field is corrected early enough, we can restore our health instead of becoming ill.

"The nature of the cell is electrical. The cell, or the basic organic unit in all living things, is nothing but an electromagnetic resonator capable of emitting and absorbing radiations of very high frequency."

Electricity for Health

We offer the future:

a non-invasive way of introducing microcurrents into the body/body/blood. One of the things the System achieves: it introduces microcurrents into the body/body/blood in a non-invasive way, successfully overcoming the natural resistance of the skin, ensuring that the blood is not ionized.

At the root of every disease is a huge load of pathological. parasitic microorganisms and their residual metabolic waste ... so part of the System's job is to also create a pulsed direct current (DC) magnetic field that is applied to the lymph nodes as well as other sites on the body. The pulsed magnetic field is aimed at creating micro-currents in the lymph and tissues (lymph carries about 10 times more viruses and bacteria than blood). See step 7 MODULE 1 + MODULE 2

How NuCell Technology works

1. Balance the nervous system:

the sympathetic branch of the nervous system, which is involved in all stress reactions in the body, functions at high speed almost all the time. The sympathetic nervous system is involved in stimulating activities that prepare the body for action, such as For example increase increase in heart rate, increase in the release of sugar from the liver into the blood - reactions that help us fight or recoil from danger. In contrast, the parasympathetic branch of the nervous system is involved in all calming responses. It is key to healing functions in the body - activating calm functions, such as stimulating the secretion of saliva or digestive enzymes in the stomach. It needs support to allow the body to heal better. A gentle flow of microcurrents can provide this support and in the process help balance the two branches of the nervous system.

2. Activates white blood cells to better deal with pathogens (immune system).

3. ATP (adenosine triphosphate) increases. ATP is a molecule formed in the cell that provides the cell and the body with energy to function.

4. Supports the body's natural electrical system.

Voltage is a measure as a way of describing the electrical potential of the cells in our body. Healthy cells have a different voltage than diseased cells. A healthy cell seeks to maintain a negative (-) voltage across the cell.

In systemic diseases (e.g., cancer), cell voltages shift significantly into the positive (+) range, thereby weakening the cell and making it sick.

FUNGUS IN THE BRAIN?

MEMORY IMPAIRMENT
CAUSED BY INFECTION.

In order for a cell to be replaced with a new healthy cell, it must have a high enough voltage. The system increases the flow of electrons. The increase in electron flow restores cells to a healthier voltage - another reason why micro-currents help the body heal.

BY ANALYZING WITH A DARK FIELD MICROSCOPE, THE RED BLOOD CELLS, WE FOUND THAT THE USE OF THE SYSTEM LEADS TO AN INCREDIBLE IMPROVEMENT IN BLOOD QUALITY. WE FOUND THAT THE RED BLOOD CELLS OF CANCER PATIENTS ARE OFTEN OVERLOADED WITH PARASITES. WE HAVE TESTED THE BLOOD OF PEOPLE WHO HAVE BEEN DIAGNOSED WITH CANCER - BOTH BEFORE AND AFTER THE NEW CELL PROGRAM. WE FOUND A DRAMATIC REDUCTION IN PARASITES FROM THE RED BLOOD CELLS, FASTER THAN ANY OTHER THERAPY USED.

Everything we have achieved so far with the New Cell Program, we can now multiply several times using the new NuCell Technology System.

Electrifying the blood is a very useful tool in natural healing because it helps the body heal itself and helps the body get rid of germs... inactivates them, thereby helping the immune system.

Every method we apply helps to feed the river of electricity in the body and stimulate the body's self-healing.

Curious fact:

The famous physicist Bird (among others), explains that the Earth's core behaves like a giant crystal, which is a major source of electromagnetic energy. So too, our cells contain crystalline structures to generate electromagnetic energy. Let us not forget that Water in the body plays a major role in maintaining the electrical charge of our bodies.

In conclusion, today's man suffers from magnetic field deficiency. Bodies are starved for electrical stimulation.

Using these resources, such as the Nucell Technology System, helps the body create a reserve of electrons. Without electrons, without current, without voltage, we are dead, so the more charged we are, the more fulfilling our lives are. Cellular bioenergetics is improved, and therapeutic use of microcurrent, providing structural materials to rebuild cell membranes as well as facilitating ATP production by mitochondrial enzymes.

What would it be like if you had solutions that could eliminate your deepest fears of getting sick, receiving a life-threatening diagnosis, or feeling the effects of aging?

What would happen if you had access to tools and technologies from the 'future' locked inside yourself?

The new medicine requires a complete reassessment of the very nature of the human being as an embodied being of light
- light that has chosen to use a physical body as a garment for the purpose of physical experience and evolution ... which is in your hands !!!
